

Seventh Grade Summer Reading

Reading over the summer is an important part of making sure you are exercising your brains and keeping your curiosity piqued in preparation for the upcoming school year.

While we hope you will choose many good books to read over the summer break, all 7th graders are required to read the following books prior to the beginning of school:

Walkabout by James Vance Marshall

ISBN: 0582342457

The Neverending Story by Michael Ende

ISBN: 0525457585

Please read both books, cover to cover, and focus on obtaining a factual understanding of the stories. Both books will be discussed at the beginning of the school year and written assessments will be given.
